

TAMMY EDWARDS, Senior Vice President Community Engagement and Inclusion,
Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City

Tammy Edwards leads the Community Engagement & Inclusion Division for the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City. She is a member of the Bank's Management Committee, which is responsible for the Kansas City Fed's strategic planning and policy direction. Ms. Edwards also serves as the Bank's Director of the Office of Minority and Women Inclusion.

The Community Engagement & Inclusion Division addresses community and economic development challenges faced by underserved populations, fosters the development of women and minorities in banking, manages diversity and inclusion strategies and programs across business lines and facilitates the Bank's community engagement initiatives. As the regional headquarters of the nation's central bank, the Kansas City Fed and its branch offices in Denver, Oklahoma City and Omaha serve the seven states of the Tenth District: Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Colorado, northern New Mexico and western Missouri.

Ms. Edwards joined the Bank in July 2008 as assistant vice president of Community Development after holding various leadership positions at Sprint Corporation. She earned an undergraduate degree in marketing and a M.B.A. in finance from the University of Missouri – Kansas City. Ms. Edwards is very active in several civic and community organizations throughout the greater Kansas City area.
